General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code.

Section 501(c)(3) states that an organization exempt under that section will lose its tax-exempt status and its qualification to receive deductible charitable contributions if a substantial part of its activities are carried on to influence legislation. Section 501(h), however, permits certain eligible 501(c)(3) organizations to elect to make limited expenditures to influence legislation. An organization making the election will, however, be subject to an excise tax under section 4911 if it spends more than the amounts permitted by that section. Also, the organization may lose its exempt status if its lobbying expenditures exceed the permitted amounts by more than 50% over a 4-year period. For any tax year in which an election under section 501(h) is in effect, an electing organization must report the actual and permitted amounts of its lobbying expenditures and grass roots expenditures (as defined in section 4911(c)) on its annual return required under section 6033. See Schedule A (Form 990 or Form 990-EZ). Each electing member of an affiliated group must report these amounts for both itself and the affiliated group as a whole.

To make or revoke the election, enter the ending date of the tax year to which the election or revocation applies in item 1 or 2, as applicable, and sign and date the form in the spaces provided.

Eligible Organizations.—A section 501(c)(3) organization is permitted to make the election if it is not a disqualified organization (see below) and is described in:

1. Section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) (relating to educational institutions),
2. Section 170(b)(1)(A)(iii) (relating to hospitals and medical research organizations),
3. Section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv) (relating to organizations supporting government schools),
4. Section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) (relating to organizations publicly supported by charitable contributions),
5. Section 509(a)(2) (relating to organizations publicly supported by admissions, sales, etc.), or
6. Section 509(a)(3) (relating to organizations supporting certain types of public charities other than those section 509(a)(3) organizations that support section 501(c)(4), (5), or (6) organizations).

Disqualified Organizations.—The following types of organizations are not permitted to make the election:

a. Section 170(b)(1)(A)(i) organizations (relating to churches),
b. An integrated auxiliary of a church or of a convention or association of churches, or
c. A member of an affiliated group of organizations if one or more members of such group is described in a or b of this paragraph.

Affiliated Organizations.—Organizations are members of an affiliated group of organizations only if (1) the governing instrument of one such organization requires it to be bound by the decisions of the other organization on legislative issues, or (2) the governing board of one such organization includes persons (i) who are specifically designated representatives of another such organization or are members of the governing board, officers, or paid executive staff members of such other organization, and (ii) who, by aggregating their votes, have sufficient voting power to cause or prevent action on legislative issues by the first such organization.

For more details, see section 4911 and section 501(h).

Note: A private foundation (including a private operating foundation) is not an eligible organization.

Where To File.—Mail Form 5768 to the Internal Revenue Service Center, Ogden, UT 84201-0027.

THE SUSAN G. KOMEN BREAST CANCER FOUNDATION, INC. – GROUP RETURN
FORM 990, EXPLANATION OF AMENDED RETURN
EIN: 75-2462834
MARCH 31, 2006

REASON FOR AMENDING FORM 990

This amended return does not report numeric changes to the return as originally filed with the IRS with respect to total income, total expenses or the total assets, liabilities and fund balance. After filing the original return with the IRS, the process of preparing certain state tax returns and other applications began. While preparing these state filings, errors were discovered in the Form 990 attachments with regard to certain disclosures, subtotals, and income classification of two items. The Form 990 has been amended in order that the state filings and other registrations prepared agree to the federally filed Form 990.

FORM 990, PART III, Organization's Primary Exempt Purpose

Our Mission
The mission of the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation is to eradicate breast cancer as a life-threatening disease by advancing research, education, screening and treatment.

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation was founded on a promise made between two sisters – Susan Goodman Komen and Nancy Goodman Brinker. Suzy was diagnosed with breast cancer in 1978, a time when little was known about the disease and it was rarely discussed in public. Before she died at the age of 36, Suzy asked her sister to shine a light on this disease and do everything possible to bring an end to breast cancer. Nancy kept her promise by establishing the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation in 1982.

Nearly 25 years later, the Komen Foundation is a global leader in the fight against breast cancer and is one of the world's largest private funders of breast cancer research and community outreach programs. Working through a network of Affiliates and events like the Komen Race for the Cure®, the Komen Foundation is fighting to eradicate breast cancer as a life-threatening disease by educating the public, raising awareness and funding research, screening and treatment projects in communities around the world.

The Komen Foundation has been a pioneer in the breast cancer movement, bringing the disease into the public consciousness and changing how the disease is perceived, studied and treated.

Komen Race for the Cure®
As the Foundation's signature event, the Komen Race for the Cure® Series ("Race Series") reaches more than one million people each year with the life-saving message that early detection saves lives. Early detection remains our strongest defense against this disease. As such, the five-year survival rate is over 95 percent when breast cancer is discovered while still confined to the breast. In order to increase breast cancer survival, the Foundation employs the Race Series to educate individuals about the importance of a positive breast health program in detecting breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stages. The recommended three steps include: annual screening mammography beginning at age 40; clinical breast exams every three years beginning at age 20 and annually at age 40; and monthly breast self-examinations for all women beginning by age 20.

In addition to the tremendous educational opportunities provided by the Race Series, these events also generate significant funds for the fight against breast cancer both on a national and a local level. As the largest series of 5K runs/fitness walks in the world, the Race Series has grown from one local Race with 800 participants to a national series of more than 100 Races with more than one million people expected to participate in 2005.

Up to 75 percent of the net monies raised by Komen Affiliates through events like the Race Series remain in the local community to fund education, screening and treatment programs that address the specific unmet breast health needs of the individuals living there. In order to ensure their funds are making the greatest impact, Komen Affiliates work with local medical experts and community leaders to conduct comprehensive community needs assessments. These community profiles are then used to guide local grant funding to meet the gaps identified in the needs assessment. Remaining net monies (a minimum of 25 percent) from Komen Affiliate events like the Race Series help support the Komen Foundation Research and Award Grant Program, which provides funding for innovative breast cancer research and a variety of meritorious awards.

Community Outreach
The Komen Foundation - through its Affiliate Network - raises awareness, educates the public and funds a variety of community outreach programs. Komen Affiliates support a variety of programs in their areas. Example areas of funding include:

- Churches, housing projects and senior centers to teach breast health care in African American and Hispanic/Latina communities.
- Encourage participation in clinical trials.
- Support Patient Navigator programs that help women with breast health problems receive timely diagnosis and treatment.
- Provide free mammograms, clinical breast exams and breast self-exam instruction to women in their own communities.
- Present disability awareness training to health care providers.
- Produce materials to help children and families cope with a family member's breast cancer.
- Hold breast health workshops for refugee women.

Research Grants and Awards
The Komen Foundation provides funding for innovative breast cancer research and a variety of meritorious awards. Oftentimes, the Komen Foundation is the only source of funding for cutting-edge breast cancer research, some of which has led to landmark discoveries in the quest to find a cure for and eventually prevent breast cancer. The Komen Foundation adheres to a peer-review process that is recognized by the National Cancer Institute (NCI). In the case of basic, clinical and translational research grants, applications are reviewed through a blind, or anonymous, peer-review process. Applications identified for funding are selected based on their scientific merit and their potential to have an impact on breast cancer.

Research grants are available in the following categories, including, but not limited to:

- Basic, Clinical and Translational Research:
  - Clinical studies for improved treatments
  - Translational research
  - Complementary and alternative medicine
  - Diagnostic methods
  - Environmental factors
  - Genetic epidemiology
  - Diet and nutrition
  - Psychosocial support
  - Prevention
  - Survivorship research
  - Other Imaging Techniques/Studies
- The Postdoctoral Fellowship Program funds postdoctoral fellows in the areas of breast cancer research, public health or epidemiology.
- The Population Specific Research Program involves innovative research projects focusing on the epidemiology of breast cancer within specific populations at risk for the disease. The focus of the program is to identify unique needs, trends and barriers to breast health care among specific populations such as African American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islanders, Asian American, Hispanic/Latino, Native American, Lesbian, Low Literacy, Breast Cancer Survivors, Women with Disabilities and other defined communities.

- The Interdisciplinary Breast Fellowship Program is designed to improve the quality of care for breast cancer patients. The interdisciplinary fellowship training in breast care:
  - Prepares highly motivated, talented and compassionate physicians for careers devoted to serving the multi-specialty needs of the breast cancer patient.
  - Offers an interdisciplinary curriculum integrated into a comprehensive program.
  - Provides special emphasis on enhancing the physician's understanding of the patient with benign and malignant breast disease while developing a better treatment environment for future patients.

Our grants support major advancements in breast cancer research

The Komen Foundation is funding some of the most promising and exciting research in breast cancer. Often, the Komen Foundation is the only source of funding for cutting-edge breast cancer research. Some of this research has led to landmark discoveries in the quest to find a cure for and eventually prevent breast cancer. Until that day, our hope is to continue to save more lives.

Highlights of research funded by the Komen Foundation from April 2005-March 2006 with the potential for high patient impact:

- An adult breast stem cell study that could lead to earlier detection of cancer, more targeted treatments and potential management of cancer as a chronic disease.
- Study of a new method for development of a possible breast cancer vaccine.
- Information about what promotes the development of metastatic breast cancers – information that could lead to better treatment choices and new treatment targets.
- Understanding why everyone who has the BRCA2 gene mutation doesn't develop breast cancer. Could lead to additional testing tools and help with preventative measures and expanded treatment options.
- A new technique that would stimulate immune cells and thereby protect a patient against recurrence and avoid the side effects of current therapies like radiation and chemotherapy.
- Identification of ways that cells interact with each other to promote the progression and metastasis of breast cancer.

In addition to funding research grants, the Foundation supports a meritorious award program that includes the Komen Foundation's Brinker Award for Scientific Distinction, the Komen Scholarship Program and the Professor of Survivorship Awards.

Education Outreach and Awareness

In addition to the education provided through the Race Series and other programs and initiatives funded at the Affiliate level, the Komen Foundation continues to serve as a trusted source of breast health and breast cancer information for people all over the world and is instrumental in connecting people with the resources they need in their fight against breast cancer. The Foundation is an educational resource for various audiences including the general public, Komen Affiliates and staff, health care providers, corporate partners and governmental leaders. Education and outreach are accomplished through a Web site, a national toll-free Helpline, newsletters, conferences, trainings, print and audio visual educational materials and partnerships.

The Foundation's award-winning website, www.komen.org, is one of the most comprehensive breast cancer resources online today. In addition to educational information and resources, the site offers an online breast self-examination instruction tool, up-to-the-minute information about research findings, local outreach initiatives, volunteer opportunities, events and Komen Foundation programs and partners. In 2004, more than 3 million people visited komen.org. Since it was started, more than one-half million patients and their families have been helped by our National Toll-Free Breast Care Helpline, 1.800 I'M AWARE® (1.800.462.9273). English- and Spanish-speaking volunteers and staff answer our phones Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. CST. We also offer TDD for the hearing impaired.

Aware of gaps in information and services, the Komen Foundation has advisory councils to address the breast health needs of people from different cultures and backgrounds. These councils work to reach African Americans, Hispanics/Latinas and Asian American/Pacific Islanders, among others, with culturally appropriate breast health information. The mission of these groups is to provide guidance and direction on programs designed to reduce the disparities in mortality of breast cancer among their respective communities.

In addition to these advisory groups, the Komen Foundation provides a variety of educational materials in several languages for:

- Young women
- Older adults
- Men
- Lesbians and women who partner with women
- Survivors
- Co-survivors (family, friends, health care providers or colleagues who provide support for breast cancer survivors through diagnosis, treatment and beyond)

Examples of materials include, but are not limited to:

- Breast Self-Exam (BSE) cards
- General breast health and breast cancer brochures and fact sheets
- Booklets with support information for survivors and co-survivors
- Outreach resources

The Komen Foundation also offers a variety of pink ribbon items and gifts on the Marketplace section of www.komen.org to help raise awareness and educate people about the importance of good breast health practices, including our recommended three steps: annual screening mammography beginning at age 40; clinical breast exams every three years beginning at age 20 and annually at age 40; and monthly breast self-examinations for all women beginning by age 20.

The Foundation also supports an advertising and public service announcement campaign designed to:

- Offer hope
- Serve as a reminder to practice the recommended three steps for good breast health
- Educate about the importance of early detection

Working with Lawmakers: Pressing for Change

In order to achieve our mission we believe that scientific progress must be complemented by sound public policy. Our goal is to work to influence decision makers at the federal, state and local levels to increase the government's investment in quality breast health and breast care. In addition Komen advocates for breast cancer issues within the following broad-based areas: funding and support for research; support for early detection programs, access to quality care; access to screening and treatment for the underserved and uninsured; reduction and ultimately elimination of ethnic- and income-based disparities in outcomes; and investigation of causal factors and preventative measures.

The Foundation's public policy grassroots advocacy program, Komen Champions for the Cure™ boasts involvement of 55 Komen Affiliates. In addition to working on the Komen Foundation's federal priorities, Champions Affiliates focus on state initiatives and engaging their community in local public policy issues. The online component of Komen Champions for the Cure™, ActNowEndBreastCancer.org, serves as America's town hall on breast cancer. More than 100,000 advocates have signed up to become Komen eChampions, influencing actions of policymakers on breast cancer issues. Since the programs inception in 2003, eChampions have sent more than 445,000 letters to Congress and other policymakers on critical breast cancer issues.

In 2005-06, the Komen Foundation joined in educating and guiding policymakers to:

- Expand education and screening funding for low-income women through the National Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program and reauthorization of this program
- Increase federal funding for research through the National Cancer Institute and the Department of Defense Breast Cancer Research Program
- Encourage NCI to keep translational research a priority and to maintain funding and guidelines of the Specialized Programs of Research Excellence (SPOREs) until the Translational Research Working Group completes its evaluation and makes recommendations
- Support the Nurse Reinvestment Act and its role in the oncology nursing and nursing faculty shortage and the affect on quality breast cancer care
- Broaden the laws that oversee the quality of mammography and mammography standards
- Raise awareness of researching the link between breast cancer and the environment through the Breast Cancer and Environmental Research Act
- Increase funding for the National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NCMHHD)
- Reauthorize of the Breast Cancer Research Stamp, a semi-postal stamp that has raised more than $47.4 million for breast cancer research
- Approve Medicare coverage of routine patient care while in clinical trials
- Increase Medicare payment for mammograms and breast reconstruction

Making a Difference

Today, there are more than two million breast cancer survivors alive in the United States. That's because breast cancer is being found earlier due to increased awareness and greater use of screening tests, as well as better treatment options. This means a better chance of surviving and a better quality of life than ever before.

We are proud of the part we have played in the fight against breast cancer since we began more than 20 years ago. Yet there is still much more to do. And until a cure or cures are found, we will continue to work to make a difference in the lives of people affected by breast cancer.

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation was founded on a promise made between two sisters - Nancy Goodman Brinker and her dying sister Susan Goodman Komen. Suzy was diagnosed with breast cancer in 1978 at a time when little was known about the disease and it was rarely discussed in public. Before she died at the age of 36, Suzy asked her sister to do everything possible to bring an end to breast cancer. Nancy kept her promise by establishing the Komen Foundation in 1982.

Nancy vowed to do everything in her power to find a cure for the disease that took her sister's life. Nearly 25 years later she is joined by scores of women and men, families, researchers, corporate and community partners, volunteers and donors. Today, there are more than 75,000 volunteers and more than 100 Affiliates (local service areas) reaching 17,000 communities in the U.S.

As the Foundation's signature event, the Komen Race for the Cure® Series ("Race Series") reaches more than one million people each year with the life-saving message that early detection saves lives. Until a cure or cures are found, early detection remains our strongest defense against this disease. As such, the five-year survival rate is over 95 percent when breast cancer is discovered while still confined to the breast. In order to increase breast cancer survival, the Foundation employs the Race Series to educate individuals about the importance of a positive breast health program in detecting breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stages. The recommended three steps include: annual screening mammography beginning at age 40; clinical breast exams every three years beginning at age 20 and annually at age 40; and monthly breast self-examinations for all women beginning by age 20.

As the largest series of 5K runs/fitness walks in the world, the Race has grown from one local Race with 800 participants to a national series of more than 100 Races with more than one million people expected to participate in 2006.

Up to 75 percent of an Affiliate's net income stays in the local community to fund breast cancer screening programs and educational outreach and treatment projects for underserved women and those without access to these services. Remaining net income (a minimum of 25 percent) supports the Komen Foundation Research and Award Grant Program, which funds groundbreaking breast cancer research, meritorious awards and educational and scientific programs around the world.

In order to ensure their funds are making the greatest impact, Komen Affiliates work with local medical experts and community leaders to conduct comprehensive community needs assessments. These community profiles are then used to guide local grant funding to meet the gaps identified in the needs assessment. For more information about the types of programs funded by Komen Affiliate grants, please visit the Grants and Funding section at www.komen.org and download a PDF file of the STEP Report (Screening, Treatment and Education Programs Report). To find an Affiliate in your area, you can visit the Web site or call 1.800 I'M AWARE® (1.800.462.9273).

Highlights of life-saving services for people in need

Komen Affiliates work with health care providers and community leaders to fill unmet breast health and breast cancer needs in their communities. Komen Affiliates offer funding to:

- Churches, housing projects and senior centers to teach breast health care in African American and Hispanic/Latina communities.
- Encourage participation in clinical trials.
- Support Patient Navigator programs that help women with breast health problems receive timely diagnosis and treatment.
- Provide free mammograms, clinical breast exams and breast self-exam instruction to women in their own communities.
- Present disability awareness training to health care providers.
- Produce materials to help children and families cope with a family member's breast cancer.
- Hold breast health workshops for refugee women.

Our grants support major advancements in breast cancer research

The Komen Foundation is funding some of the most promising and exciting research in breast cancer. Often, the Komen Foundation is the only source of funding for cutting-edge breast cancer research. Some of this research has led to landmark discoveries in the quest to find a cure for and eventually prevent breast cancer. Until that day, our hope is to continue to save more lives.

Highlights of research funded by the Komen Foundation from April 2005-March 2006 with the potential for high patient impact:

- An adult breast stem cell study that could lead to earlier detection of cancer, more targeted treatments and potential management of cancer as a chronic disease.
- Study of a new method for development of a possible breast cancer vaccine.
- Information about what promotes the development of metastatic breast cancers – information that could lead to better treatment choices and new treatment targets.
- Understanding why everyone who has the BRCA2 gene mutation doesn't develop breast cancer. Could lead to additional testing tools and help with preventative measures and expanded treatment options.
- A new technique that would stimulate immune cells and thereby protect a patient against recurrence and avoid the side effects of current therapies like radiation and chemotherapy.
- Identification of ways that cells interact with each other to promote the progression and metastasis of breast cancer.

Grants Purpose and Process Summary

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation (The Foundation) funds awards and research projects at leading institutions around the globe. Combined with the funding of community outreach programs that provide much-needed screening, treatment and education programs for the medically underserved, the Foundation is diligently working to not only find a cure for breast cancer – but to also discover its causes and methods of prevention so that one day breast cancer is completely eliminated from our world. It will require both research and community outreach to reach our ultimate goal to eradicate breast cancer as a life-threatening disease.

The Foundation provides funding for basic, clinical, and translational breast cancer research and for innovative projects in the areas of breast health education, breast cancer screening, and treatment. In addition, the Foundation awards three-year postdoctoral fellowships to individuals working under the guidance of experienced cancer researchers in order to recruit and retain young scientists in the field of breast cancer research. The Principal Investigator (PI) and the institution sponsoring the research are awarded the grant and are responsible for reporting on the progress of the research. Credited as a leading catalyst in the fight against breast cancer, the Foundation runs one of the most innovative, responsive grant programs in breast cancer research today with a focus on research projects with potential for high impact. Often, The Foundation is the only source of dollars for high risk projects.

For complete grant application information log on to www.komen.org or for a direct link go to;

Applicants must register via the e-grantmaking Web site proposalCentral at : https://v2.ramscompany.com/ before submitting an application. All applications must be submitted electronically via proposalCentral.

Candidates interested should visit the Komen Web site at www.komen.org/grants for more information or contact the grants department at 1-888-300-5582.

HEADQUARTERS GRANTS

All grant applications are reviewed in our independent, blinded, peer review process. Each application is reviewed by experts in the field of breast cancer and a group of qualified breast cancer advocates. Advocate Reviewers provide the critical patient perspective, assessing non-scientific aspects of research proposals.

The Foundation solicits independent reviewers annually to read grant applications submitted for the various national funding programs. Nominees are considered based on qualification and area of expertise and are chosen according to the need in each funding program. Self-nominations are accepted. Review committee members serve for a one-year term with an availability of two additional years and are asked to sign a Conflict of Interest and Confidentiality statement. Prior to reviewing applications, reviewers are required to list all institutions or organizations with which they may have a possible conflict.

Reviewers are asked to not review an application if there is a financial benefit or employment, personal or business interest in the organization submitting the application. Reviewers are also instructed to not review an application if reviewing it would give the appearance of a conflict of interest. The Foundation maintains a record of reviewers who report a potential conflict of interest.

The grant applications are submitted to a blinded review - a review process where steps are taken to ensure the applicant's identity and institution are not known by the reviewers. Applicants are asked to remove self-references from the body of the application, reference pages, and/or any other identifying information that will be provided to the reviewers.

Applications recommended for funding by the independent review panel are selected based on their scientific merit and their potential to have a positive impact on breast cancer and are deemed superior. Only superior applications are presented to the Foundation's Board of Directors for final approval. Applicants are notified of their grant approval and must execute a Grant Agreement, which outlines the terms of the grant.

Grant funds must be expended in accordance with the project's approved budget. The Foundation disburses the first year's budgeted grant funds upon its receipt of the signed Grant Agreement. For each additional year of the grant, except the final year, the Foundation disburses 100 percent of the budgeted funds for such year upon its receipt of a satisfactory and timely progress report for the prior year. For the final year of the grant, the Foundation disburses 80 percent of the approved budget funds upon receipt of a satisfactory progress report and the remaining 20 percent upon receipt of a satisfactory final progress and fiscal report.

The Foundation also offers a wide variety of innovative awards and programs that honor and support individuals touched by breast cancer. These awards include:

The Komen Foundation Brinker Award for Scientific Distinction recognizes outstanding work that has advanced basic research concepts or affected clinical or social-behavioral applications in the field of breast cancer research, screening, treatment or prevention. The intent is to recognize scholars for a specific contribution, a consistent pattern of contributions, or leadership in the field that has had a substantial impact on breast cancer. The nominations for this award come from the nominating committee and the general public. The selection of the recipient is done by the selection committee. Each committee is comprised of former Brinker awardees. The recipients cannot be relatives of The Foundation's Board of Directors, the Foundation's Advisory council, or the Foundation's Executive Team.

The Komen Professor of Survivorship Award honors and supports research and education that focus on survivorship and quality of life issues for breast cancer survivors. This award was established with the goal of advancing research and awareness on the issues surrounding long-term survivorship of breast cancer. Nominations come from the public and former awardees. The selection is done by a committee that is made up of former awardees. Recipients cannot be relatives of The Foundation Board of Directors, the Foundation's Advisory council, or the Foundation's Executive Team.

The College Scholarship Award Program assists students who have lost a parent to breast cancer. The program offers college scholarships of up to $10,000 a year, over a four-year period, to young adults (graduating high school to age 25). Five scholarships are awarded. Scholarships are renewable upon satisfactory progress toward the completion of a degree. Applications for these awards go through a multi-faceted process. First, the submitted applications are screened by Foundation personnel to ensure that the basic award guidelines are met. Second, independent selection committees, members of which have completed conflict of interest verifications, review and score the applications to determine the finalists. Lastly, the finalists are interviewed by the selection committee and the winners are determined. The scholarship recipients cannot be relatives of The Foundation Board of Directors, the Foundation's Advisory council, or the Foundation's Executive Team.

The Interdisciplinary Breast Fellowship Program is designed to prepare highly motivated, talented and compassionate physicians for careers dedicated to serving the multi-specialty needs of breast cancer patients. Applications for this Award are received and reviewed by an external, independent committee. The committee's recommendations are forwarded to the Foundation's Board of Directors for final approval. Recipients cannot be relatives of The Foundation Board of Directors, the Foundation's Advisory council, or the Foundation's Executive Team.

AFFILIATE GRANTS

In addition to Foundation research grants, Foundation Affiliates (the Affiliates) fund non-duplicative, community-based projects that are breast cancer Screening, Treatment and Education Programs (STEP). Affiliates also fund Clinical Research Affiliate Funding Trials (CRAFT) grants to increase the capacity of Breast Cancer Research in Affiliate communities in order to allow more women the option of participating in clinical trials. The purpose of the Foundation Affiliate is to fulfill the mission of the Foundation within a defined service area. The Foundation's Affiliate network is organized by volunteers committed to establishing needed breast health services and enhancing existing services within their communities. The Affiliates award grants only to other nonprofit organizations, educational institutions and government entities within the boundaries of their defined service areas.

In order to ensure they are funding programs that address the specific unmet breast health needs of their communities, Foundation Affiliates work with local medical experts and community leaders to conduct comprehensive community needs assessments. These community needs assessments are used to solicit local grant application consistent with the Foundation's standards and mission.

Annually, Affiliates publicize the availability of grant funds and issue Requests for Proposals (RFP). All Grant Applications are processed through an independent and objective Affiliate review procedure annually. Affiliates may not fund multi-year grant contracts. All current grantees must resubmit requests annually for continued funding.

A volunteer review panel is formed for the purpose of evaluating and rating all grant applications. This panel is responsible for making funding recommendations to the Affiliate Board of Directors. Members of the review panel come from various organizations within the community and offer varied backgrounds in screening, women's health, education, cancer support services, and community health services delivery. The members confirm that they have no conflict of interest and their identity is kept anonymous to the applicants until all funding decisions have been made.

Once all of the applications have been reviewed for compliance with all instructions outlined in the RFP by the Affiliate, the completed applications are submitted to the review panel.

Reviewers rate each application according to the criteria and instructions given by the Affiliate. When the review is complete, the Affiliate tabulates the ratings to generate a ranking of top-rated applications. The list of recommended grants in order of funding priority, also called the slate, is sent to the Affiliate's Board of Directors for funding approval.

The responsibility of approving grant funding ultimately lies with the Affiliate Board of Directors. After receiving the funding recommendations, the Affiliate Board of Directors will vote to approve or decline the slate of grants and determine the payment schedule

A grant contract is issued for each grant awarded. Upon receipt of the executed contract, funding may commence according to the schedule approved by the Affiliate Board of Directors. The grant payments are divided into two disbursements. The first payment is made after receipt of the signed contract. The second payment is made after successful completion of the Semi-Annual Grant Report.
